The Omni-Channel Outreach System

Email, LinkedIn, calendar invites and WhatsApp, run as one conversation per buyer. Not four tools sending four different messages to the same person.

The channel map

CHANNEL	WHAT IT IS FOR	BEFORE YOU SWITCH IT ON	THE LIMIT TO RESPECT
Cold email	People who have never heard of you	Separate look-alike domains, warmed for two weeks	One link per email; 8am to 8pm their time
LinkedIn	Named people, from your own profile	Nothing to warm: run it first	Note under 300 characters; 15 to 20 requests a day
Calendar invite	Putting your session in their week	Its own domain and sender	Sent 8 to 12 days out; title under 60 characters
WhatsApp	Reminders for people who opted in	Their consent on your form	Under 400 characters; never on a cold list

The rules that make it one conversation

1. One sequence holds email and LinkedIn
   Steps run in your order, so a buyer meets one story. Invites run beside it as their own campaign.
2. One owner per prospect
   Split the list by job title so each person hears from one sender.
3. A reply stops everything
   Any reply on any channel ends the sequence and a person takes over.
4. Each channel gets its own tagged link
   So you can see which channel earned each sign-up.
5. Start with two channels
   Cold email plus LinkedIn. Ads only once your page converts.

A sample sequence

WHEN	CHANNEL	WHAT GOES OUT
Day 0	LinkedIn	Connection request with a short note
Day 0	Email	Step 1: the promise, the event, one link
Day 3	Email	Step 2: a short reply in the same thread, one new reason
After they accept	LinkedIn	A useful first message, no pitch; then days 3, 7, 12 and 25 after accepting
Day 6	Email	Step 3: one example from your proof
Day 9	Email	Step 4: the date and the link again
Day 13	Email	Step 5: the last note, an easy way out
8 to 12 days before the event	Calendar invite	The session in their calendar, its own campaign

The prompt that writes the email steps

Write my cold email thread

Write a 5-step cold email thread inviting [FILL: buyer role] to [FILL: my event line, resource or offer].
Two versions with the same offer: A leads with the outcome; B leads with this objection in my buyer's words: "[FILL: objection]".
Step 1 on day 0 has a subject line (under 6 words, plain, no hype). Steps 2 to 5 (days 3, 6, 9, 13) are replies in the same thread: under 80 words each, one new reason each, one link only.
Merge fields allowed: {first_name}, {company}. Last line of every step: a one-line opt out.
Use my Funnel Brief. No invented numbers, names or results. If a step needs proof and I have none, write it without proof.

Never

- [ ] Send cold outreach from your main domain.
- [ ] Message someone on WhatsApp who didn't opt in.
- [ ] Run two separate campaigns at the same person at once.
