The 12-Stage Pipeline Clock Sheet

A deal doesn't need a no to die. It only needs to wait. Give every stage a time limit, one owner and a next step for when the clock runs out.

The sheet

#	STAGE	THE CLOCK	OWNER	WHEN THE CLOCK RUNS OUT
1	Form Filled	Reviewed within 12 hours		Qualified leads get a call. The rest get the booking link.
2	Call Scheduled	Confirmation at once. Reminders at 48 hours, 24 hours and 1 hour		The reminders go out on their own. Build these first.
3	No Show (exit)	SMS within 5 minutes. Email within 15 minutes		Two calls the same day, then a 7-day sequence with new times.
4	Qualified
5	Unqualified (exit)			A reason code and a date to look again.
6	Call Held	Recap email the same day		The recap names the next step and its date.
7	Follow-Up	Weekly for high intent. Every two weeks for medium		A reply, a booking or a stage change stops the sequence.
8	Proposal Sent	Follow-ups at 48 hours and 7 days		A call when the proposal is opened.
9	Proposal Accepted	Invoice reminders 3 days before, on the due date, and 3 and 7 days late		The payment webhook moves the deal, never a person.
10	Payment Completed	Welcome email at once		Kickoff gets booked.
11	Onboarding	Kickoff within 3 to 7 working days
12	Delivery

Blank cells are yours to set. Every clock already filled in is the one we teach.

How to fill it in

1. Spell the stage names once
   Use the same names in your CRM and never rename them. A renamed stage breaks every automation that moves a contact into it.
2. Put one name in every Owner cell
   One person, not a team. Nobody owns a wait that belongs to everyone.
3. Give every sequence one exit rule
   A reply, a booking or a stage change removes the contact, so nobody gets chased after paying.
4. Build the booked-call reminders first
   If you build only one sequence today, build that one.

The prompt that writes the messages

Write my pipeline follow-ups

Write the follow-up messages for every stage of my sales pipeline: form filled, call scheduled, no show, qualified, unqualified, call held, follow-up, proposal sent, proposal accepted, payment completed, onboarding, delivery.
For each stage: the trigger, the exit, a table of steps (offset, channel, owner, purpose) and the full copy. Email: subject, preheader, body. SMS: under 160 characters. WhatsApp: under 400 characters. Call steps: a 3 to 5 line script.
Fields: {first_name}, {booking_link}, {meeting_link}, {reschedule_link}, {invoice_number}, {amount}, {due_date}, {payment_link}, {expiry_date}.
Only facts from my Funnel Brief. Where a fact is missing, leave a {placeholder}. No invented results.
