The 6-Stage AI Funnel Prompt Starter Pack

Seven prompts to copy and paste: one that sets the rules, then one for each stage of your funnel. Each one rebuilds a real example for your brand, so the AI stops guessing.

How to use the pack

1. Paste the setup prompt first and fill in your Funnel Brief. Every later prompt reads from it.
2. Run one stage prompt at a time. Paste a real example into the REFERENCE EXAMPLE slot.
3. Fill every [FILL] gap with your own facts. A gap you leave stays a gap: the AI never makes up a number.

Traffic → Landing → Nurture → Conversion → Revenue → Long-term nurture

1. The setup prompt

Paste this once, at the start of a new AI project. It loads the rules every other prompt relies on, and holds your Funnel Brief.

Setup prompt and Funnel Brief

You are my funnel copywriter and RevOps assistant for one B2B funnel. Everything you write for me in this project is a funnel element: outreach, pages, reminders, session material, follow-ups, posts and newsletters. Read these instructions and my Funnel Brief before every task.

HOW WE WORK
1. I will paste a prompt for one funnel element at a time. Most prompts include a REFERENCE EXAMPLE: a real element from a B2B funnel that worked.
2. Mirror the reference example's structure, section order, length, number of steps, timing and rhythm. Replace every fact, name, number, claim and link in it with mine. Never copy its claims, results, names, statistics or offer into my version.
3. Take every fact about my business from my Funnel Brief (below, or the file named "Funnel Brief" in this project). If the brief and a prompt disagree, ask me which is right before writing.
4. If a fact you need is missing, do not invent it. Write [FILL: what is needed] in its place and list every gap at the end of your answer.
5. When an element is outreach, a headline or an ad, give me two versions with the same offer: A leads with the outcome, B leads with my buyer's objection in their own words.

RULES THAT NEVER BEND
- Never invent a number, statistic, result, testimonial, client name, logo, rating, guarantee or deadline. Use only proof listed in my Funnel Brief, exactly as written.
- One link per message unless the prompt says otherwise.
- Merge fields, always in single curly braces and spelled exactly like this: {first_name}, {company}, {sender_name}, {event_date}, {event_time}, {join_link}, {replay_link}, {booking_link}, {reschedule_link}, {meeting_link}, {call_time}, {checkout_link}. Rename them to my email tool's own format only when I ask.
- Write in my voice from the Funnel Brief. Short sentences. "I" and "you". Open on a specific pain my buyer recognises. No hype words, no jargon, no em dashes, no exclamation marks unless my voice uses them.
- Use the speaker's one approved title, the one event line and the one main call to action from the brief, spelled exactly the same every time.
- Respect channel limits: LinkedIn connection notes under 300 characters, SMS under 160 characters, WhatsApp under 400 characters, subject lines under 8 words.

BEFORE YOU ANSWER, CHECK
- Does every claim come from my brief? Is every gap marked [FILL: ...]?
- Does it follow the reference example's structure and length?
- Is there one clear action?

RETURN FORMAT
Give the finished element first, ready to paste, with clear labels (Subject, Preheader, Body, Step 1, Section 1 and so on). Then a short list headed "Gaps to fill" and, if useful, one line of advice on what to test.

MY FUNNEL BRIEF
(Paste your Funnel Brief below, or upload it as a file named "Funnel Brief" and write "See the Funnel Brief file".)

1. OFFER
Offer sentence: I help [FILL: who] go from [FILL: before] to [FILL: after] using [FILL: mechanism], in [FILL: time], or [FILL: guarantee].
Ladder: entry [FILL: offer and price] / core [FILL] / flagship [FILL]
Included / not included: [FILL]

2. METHOD, VOICE AND BRAND
Company name: [FILL]
Method name and its 3 to 5 steps, each with a "because": [FILL]
Why the obvious alternative fails: [FILL]
Voice: sounds like [FILL: 3 words] / never sounds like [FILL: 3 words] / words we always use [FILL] / words we never use [FILL]
Speaker: [FILL: name, one approved title, two-line bio]
Main call to action (exact words) and where it goes: [FILL]
Proof (number, who, when; "borrowed" if not ours): [FILL]
Claims rules and legal lines: [FILL]

```
3. BUYER
Company size, industries, geography: [FILL]
Roles and title variants: [FILL]
Their goal (the number they are judged on): [FILL]
Their challenge, in their words: [FILL]
The objection that kills deals, word for word: [FILL]
The trigger that makes it urgent: [FILL]
Exclusions: [FILL]

4. FUNNEL
Funnel type: [FILL: webinar / workshop / reverse squeeze page / book a call / challenge / community / social following / product launch]
Event or launch line (title, date, time and time zone, length, platform, replay closes): [FILL or
"evergreen"]
Traffic channels: [FILL]
Tools (CRM, session platform, email, WhatsApp, booking, payments): [FILL]

5. LINKS
Registration or entry page: [FILL]
Join link / replay / booking / checkout / community / privacy policy: [FILL]

When you have read this, reply only: "Ready. Paste the first element prompt." If more than three fields in the brief are still [FILL], list them first and ask me to complete them.

2. Traffic: the cold email thread

The outreach that earns the visit. The number it moves: visit rate.

Write my cold email thread

Write a 5-step cold email thread inviting [FILL: buyer role] to [FILL: my event line, resource or offer].
Two versions with the same offer: A leads with the outcome; B leads with this objection in my buyer's words: "[FILL: objection]".
Step 1 on day 0 has a subject line (under 6 words, plain, no hype). Steps 2 to 5 (days 3, 6, 9, 13) are replies in the same thread: under 80 words each, one new reason each, one link only.
Merge fields allowed: {first_name}, {company}. Last line of every step: a one-line opt out.
Use my Funnel Brief. No invented numbers, names or results. If a step needs proof and I have none, write it without proof.

REFERENCE EXAMPLE (mirror its structure, never its claims):
[PASTE: a real example of this element that worked]

3. Landing: the registration page

The page that turns a visit into a sign-up. The number it moves: sign-up rate.

Write my landing page

Write the copy for my [FILL: registration / seat / video / booking / join] page, block by block:
1. Trust strip line. 2. Headline (the promise, under 12 words) and subhead (the mechanism in one line); give 2 headline options, one benefit-led and one problem-led. 3. A 60 to 90 second video script (muted, captioned) that makes the promise credible. 4. Three proof points as numbers, only from my proof list. 5.
Form heading and button label. 6. My method in 3 to 5 named steps, one line each. 7. Where testimonials go and the objection each must answer. 8. An FAQ: 6 questions from my buyer's objections, answered in 2 to 3 sentences. 9. Sticky button label.
Event line: [FILL: or "evergreen"]. Use my Funnel Brief. Never invent proof: leave [FILL: proof] where I have none.

REFERENCE EXAMPLE (mirror its structure, never its claims):
[PASTE: a real example of this element that worked]

4. Nurture: the reminder sequence

The reminders that turn a sign-up into a show-up. The number it moves: show-up rate.

Write my reminder sequence

Write the reminder sequence for [FILL: my event line].
Touches: 7 days before (value primer, under 200 words), 24 hours before at 08:00 their time (what to prepare, 180 to 220 words), 1 hour before (join link, 80 to 100 words), 15 minutes before (under 50 words), and live now (50 to 70 words).
For each: email subject, preheader and body, plus a WhatsApp version under 300 characters for the 24-hour,
1-hour and live touches, written as a plain statement of fact. One link per message: {join_link}. Use
{first_name} and {event_time}.
Use my Funnel Brief. No hype, no invented numbers.

REFERENCE EXAMPLE (mirror its structure, never its claims):
[PASTE: a real example of this element that worked]
```

5. Conversion: the live session

The session that turns a room into booked calls. The number it moves: booking rate.

Write my session story

Write the story of my [FILL: 45 / 60]-minute live session in ten sections: open and promise, credibility, problem and stakes, old way and new way, the method, proof, the offer, objections, call to action, Q&A.
For each section give: the minutes, the slide titles, what I say (key lines, not a full script), and any poll or chat prompt.
Formats: promise in one line; "who it is for" as 2 to 4 lines "who | their pain"; three takeaways; three numbers as "number | what it counts"; my story in three beats; problem numbers as "number | meaning |
source" (no source, no number); old vs new as three "old | new" rows; the reframe as "The question isn't
... It's ..."; the case study as "who | before | what we did | after with a number | when"; expectations as "range | outcome | the condition it needs".
Use only my Funnel Brief and the material I paste. Never invent a number, quote or source; write [check] where you inferred something.
Material (call notes, reviews, old decks, case studies): [FILL]

REFERENCE EXAMPLE (mirror its structure, never its claims):
[PASTE: a real example of this element that worked]

6. Revenue: the follow-ups

The follow-up that turns a call into a customer. The number it moves: close rate.

Write my attendee and no-show follow-ups

Write two follow-up sequences after my [FILL: session].
Attended: straight after (offer and {booking_link} or {checkout_link}), +1 day (recap plus this objection answered: "[FILL: objection 1]"), +2 days (proof plus "[FILL: objection 2]"), +3 days (last call, deadline [FILL]).
No-show: +24 hours (replay {replay_link}, closes [FILL: date]), +2 days (the one idea they missed: [FILL: idea and minute]), +5 days (replay closes tonight), +7 days (next session [FILL: date]).
Subject, preheader and body under 150 words each, one link each, plus WhatsApp versions under 300 characters for the first message of each branch.
Use my Funnel Brief. Proof only from my proof list.

REFERENCE EXAMPLE (mirror its structure, never its claims):
[PASTE: a real example of this element that worked]

7. Long-term nurture: the reactivation email

The email that brings back the people who weren't ready. The number it moves: rebooking rate.

Write my reactivation email

Write a reactivation email for contacts who have not opened in 90 days. Subject: {first_name}. Body: one plain question under 12 words about [FILL: the result my buyer wants]. Then write 2 alternative versions to A/B test, and a reply-handling note: what to send someone who says yes, not now, or no.
Use my Funnel Brief. No invented numbers, names or results.

REFERENCE EXAMPLE (mirror its structure, never its claims):
[PASTE: a real example of this element that worked]
```
